A day after a man lost his wife in a boating accident; two grim-faced policemen greeted him at his door.

"We're sorry to call on you at this hour, Mr. Wilkens, but we have some information about your wife."

"Well, tell me!" the man said.

The policeman said, "We have some bad news, some good news and some really great news. Which do you want to hear first?"

Fearing the worst, Mr. Wilkens said, "Give me the bad news first."

So the policeman said, "I'm sorry to tell you sir, but this morning we found your wife's body in San Francisco Bay."

"Oh my god!" said Mr. Wilkens, overcome by emotion. Then, remembering what the policeman had said, he asked, "What's the good news?"

"Well," said the policeman, "When we pulled her up she had two five-pound lobsters and a dozen good size Dungeness crabs on her."

"If that's the good news than what's the great news?" Mr. Wilkens demanded.

The policeman said, "We're going to pull her up again tomorrow morning."

"Not at all", says the Chinese guy, "You see, when my grandfather arrived at Ellis Island and stood in the immigrants line, they had their names written down on cards. The man in front of him was a Daniel Rosenberg. When my grandfather stepped up the official asked for his name and he replied: 'Sam Ting'"

A short distance up the road, they found a badly mangled Iraqi soldier in a ditch on the other side of the road, struggling to breathe. They ran to him, cradled his bruised head and asked him what had happened.

"Well," he whispered, "I was walking down this road, armed to the teeth when I came across this heavily armed American border guard. I looked him right in the eye and shouted, George W. Bush is a moronic, deceitful, lying piece of trash!"

He looked me right in the eye and shouted back, 'Saddam is a moronic, deceitful, lying piece of trash too! We were standing there shaking hands when the truck hit us."

For a second everything went quiet in the cab, then the driver said, "Look mate, don't ever do that again. You scared the daylight out of me!"

The passenger apologized and said, "I didn't realize that a little tap would scare you so much."

The driver replied, "Sorry, it's not really your fault. Today is my first day as a cab driver. I've been driving a funeral van for the last 25 years."

While working for an organization that delivers lunches to elderly shut-ins, I used to take my 4-year-old daughter on my afternoon rounds. She was unfailingly intrigued by the various appliances of old age, particularly the canes, walkers and wheelchairs.
